

Front - Title/Description

Tuscola County Advertiser

The Tuscola County Advertiser began publishing on August 21, 1868. The city's oldest surviving business establishment, it was founded by Henry G. Chapin, a native of Conesus, New York. Chapin edited and published the paper for twelve years. The paper began with a circulation of 300, and by 1986 it reached 14,200 readers. The newspaper has received over seventy Awards of Excellence from the Michigan Press Association and was honored as Michigan's outstanding weekly newspaper by the University of Michigan Press Club in 1983.

Significant Date:

Civil War and After (1860-1875)

Registry Year: 1986     Erected Date: 1986

Marker Location

Address: 344 N. State Street

City: Caro

State: MI     ZipCode:

County: Tuscola

Township: Indianfields

Lat: 43.49060800 / Long: -83.39420000

Web URL:

Back - Title/Description